RICHLANDS.

Last April we began to advertise our town lots, making at that time a number of statements in regard to what we would do. Through the non-completion of the Clinch Valley extension of the Norfolk and Western our railroad facilities at that time were very limited. We had no railroad station and, indeed, one old farmhouse was the total sign of life about the place. Since then the railroad has erected a fine brick and stone freight station, one of the largest on the road, and will shortly erect a fine passenger station, while the Clinch Valley Company has spent, or is under contract to expend, $350,000. A four-story hotel, the finest in Southwest Virginia, is under roof; a handsome iron bridge, of 180 feet span, crosses the Clinch river; two second-class hotels have been built, and a large number of stores are building under contract. The company has erected a handsome three-story building for its offices, and a fine stone bank building is nearing completion. Machinery for the rolling mill is on the grounds, and the track to the coal mines, three miles away, is completed, and coal is now coming out. A steam brick plant, the most complete in Southwest Virginia, is in operation, and a large amount of grading and other work is going on. This work attracts a great deal of attention, while Richlands is merely at the end of a non-completed line. The completion of the Clinch Valley division this fall, and the running of through trains between Washington and Louisville, putting Richlands immediately on a through line, will give an impetus to the prosperity of the town sufficient to throw it ahead of all competitors, and the attention of investors is called to real estate here as giving greater promise than any town in Southwest Virginia.

FIRST SALE OF LOTS

AT BUCHANAN, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29.

The CENTRAL LAND COMPANY of Buchanan will receive up to 1 o'clock P. M., Wednesday, October 29, 1890, applications for the purchase of lots plotted on its maps and priced in the schedule accompanying the same, at the prices named in the schedule. Should there be but one application for any lot, it will be sold to the party making such offer. Should there be more than one offer for the same lot it will be sold at once to the highest bidder; but no one will be permitted to bid on a given lot but those who had previously made an offer for the same.

Terms of Sale: One-third cash; balance in one and two years with interest secured by deed of trust.

Maps, schedules, etc., will be ready for distribution October 9, and will be sent on application. Excursion tickets good from October 28 to 30 inclusive, will be sold from all points. It is urged that in view of the large number of buyers that will be present at the sale, those desiring to examine the property should do so before the day of the sale. No place in the South offers superior advantages to the investor, the manufacturer, or as a place for residence. It is on two lines of railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western (S. V. R. R.) and the building of two others, the Baltimore and Ohio and Virginia Western seems well assured. It has competing coal; is within easy distance of the New River and Flat Top coals; is at the gateway to the magnificent deposits of iron ores of the Upper James; the limestone for the Roanoke furnace is mined here; it has glass sand, and sand for silica brick and foundry purposes at its very door; in a word is an ideal manufacturing site. It is in a healthy situation, and the mountains, on the James River where it cuts across the Valley of Virginia, with a temperate climate free from the extreme heat of the further South and the severe winters of the North. Over $175,000 worth of buildings will be under construction the day of sale; streets graded, water works and sewerage provided for; electric light plant under construction; the finest hotel in Virginia building; manufacturing plants going up, a $50,000 steel railroad and highway bridge being erected to belt the town. PERSONAL ITEMS.

What People are Doing In and Out of Roanoke.

Mr. C. R. Luck is very ill at his home, near Montvale.

Little Agnes Bowman, who has been sick for the past two months, is improving.

Mr. George Farquhar, a clerk in the Norfolk and Western offices, is quite sick at the residence of Prof. Thom.

Miss Doyle, an accomplished artist from Mississippi, will open an Art Class to-day. Her pictures on exhibition at Fox & Christian's are very fine.

The Clover Club held its weekly meeting Monday evening at the usual place. The first scene of "King Lear" was read and discussed. This was followed by a number of recitations: "The Vase," "Aunt Tabitha," "Margery's Beads," "Charles Edward's Soliloquy," "The Georgia Volunteer," and "Absalom," the last a comic recitation, rendered in imitable style.

Mrs. L. H. Okey, who has been living in Roanoke for the past twelve months, has gone to Bristol where her home will be in future.

Mrs. Clark, a former teacher in the Maryland Normal School, visited the First Ward School yesterday.

Councilman Jas A. McConnell who has been attending the bedside of his sick mother at Altoona, Pa., returned Monday evening, and is at his old post in the Roanoke Machine Works.

Mr. D. C. Foster, of Philadelphia, who has been awarded the contract of laying the pavement around Hotel Roanoke, arrived in the city yesterday, and will begin work on the walks at once.

George Myer, colored, a laborer on the double track of the Norfolk and Western railroad, had his left leg fractured below the knee yesterday by a large rock rolling down the embankment, about six miles west of Salem. He was brought to his home in this city last night and surgical aid summoned.

Miss Flora Catagni left last night for her home in Suffolk after a visit to her brothers in this city.

A pleasant party was given last night at the residence of Mr. T. L. Badger, on Fourth avenue, n. w., in commemoration of the nineteenth birthday of Miss Annie Badger, his pretty and interesting daughter. Refreshments were on hand in abundance, and dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Miss Lou H. Frays, who is a guest of Mr. J. R. Hockaday, is canvassing in the city in behalf of a book written by herself, entitled "Then and Now." It is an interesting story of Southern life, and comes highly commended by the press in places where it has been sold.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock last night the police arrested three men for drunkenness.

Mr. T. F. Seagle, of Vinton, had his right wrist badly cut by a chisel yesterday evening while at work on a new building in the western portion of that city. His wound was dressed by Dr. Harrison, of this city.

Mr. Walter Brodie, of the Boston Baseball Club, has returned to his home in this city, where he will remain until the next season begins. Mr. Brodie began his baseball career on the Roanoke team, and has established the reputation of being one of the best all-round players in the country.

Mr. B. N. Hatcher, of Bedford City, is registered at Hotel Felix. He displayed several excellent specimens of nitre rock which was discovered in making excavations for the new reservoir at that place.

In the case of Mrs. Bump Robinson, of Railroad avenue, for selling intoxicating drinks on Sunday, which was tried in the police court yesterday morning, Mayor Evans reserved his decision until to-day.

The hen-house of Mrs. Walter Single, of Fifth avenue n. e., was entered Monday night by thieves and relieved of one handsome rooster and five fat hens.

Mrs. Charles Wainwright is critically ill at her home in the western part of the city.

Mac Jones, a negro boy, was arrested yesterday for breaking into the store of Obenchain & Hogan, at Mountville. He was taken to Bedford City and lodged in jail.

SOON TO BE JOINED.

The Dummy Tools Now Near the Edge of Salem.

The dummy line to Salem has been completed to within sight of that city, and only about one-half a mile of track will have to be laid before the line is completed. The track layers are now at work at the west edge of the skirt of woods through which the line runs, just this side of and bordering the corporate limits of Salem.

In conversation with a Times reporter last night, Mr. McGhee, secretary of the Street Railway Company, said it was expected that the cars would be running regularly between the two cities not later than two weeks hence. The contractors, Messrs Sexton and Houston, will turn the road over to the company, and they will then at once start regular trains. New cars and engines the latter of a heavier build than those now in use, have been ordered and are expected daily. Two trains, one to leave Roanoke and one to leave Salem simultaneously, will be put upon the road.

"Boccaccio" at the Opera House.

Marie Greenwood's Comic Opera Company will appear at the opera house this evening in Von Suppe's charming "Boccaccio," a favorite whose hold on the public increases with time. Miss Greenwood assumes the leading role of Flaminia, Miss Mamie Taylor, the soprano, appears as Boccaccio, while Adolph Mayer takes the part of Leonetto, and Leslie Apple, of Pietro.

Manager Beckner deserves immense credit for bringing this well and favorably known troupe to Roanoke, and the music-loving public will see to it that he has made no mistake in appealing to cultivated and refined tastes.

He Broke Up the Game.

Officer Auburn ran on a gang of negro boot-blacks playing dice on the vacant ground south of the Vigilant Fire Company's building yesterday afternoon. They quickly gathered up the dice and the money that had been staked and took to their heels, leaving behind only a nickel and a bootjack.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

It Will Be Open for Business in a Few Days.

The Roanoke Stock Exchange will be ready for the opening in a few days. Stocks are now being listed, and any one who desires information about the exchange can get it by calling on Mr. J. D. Prescott, the chairman. Mr. Prescott is familiar with the business generally, having been engaged in the stock business since 1871, in San Francisco, New York and Boston.

In conversation with a Times reporter yesterday he said that the outlook for an exchange in Roanoke is encouraging. "There are plenty of good companies here," said he, "and the exchange will establish a standard price so that a man may know what he is doing when he buys or sells stocks. Of course, the business will have to be worked gradually, and the people accustomed to trading in stocks through the exchange."

THE JUNIOR HOSE FAIR.

A Large Attendance Last Night—Novel Features Introduced.

At least 300 people were in attendance at the Junior Hose Company's fair last night. It is a great success so far. The contests are receiving considerable attention, and are interesting.

Last night the following contests were inaugurated: W. S. Thomas and James McFall, for a handsome silver trumpet; the Vigilant Fire Company and the Friendship Fire Company, for a silk banner. The contest between Mr. George Cox, traveling engineer of the Railroad division, and Robert Lemon, traveling agent of the Lynchburg division, for a silk umbrella, is very close and interesting.

The comic Irish songs by Mr. Wise, of Pennsylvania, were a decided hit, and were greatly applauded.

The company proposes to introduce new features every night. One of the features to-night will be chalk sketches in imitation of different nationalities, and a countryman's first visit to New York city, by J. O'Keefe.

The object of the fair is to fit up old Rorer Hall, which was recently presented to the Junior Hose Company.

A SAD CASE.

A Poor Woman Deceived, Drugged and Robbed by an Unknown Scoundrel.

Mrs. James McMillen, a young woman with a bright looking little boy about five years of age, was taken to the station house last night by Officers Ware and Eanes. The woman and child were found on the Union depot platform, and though intoxicated she told a pitiful story. She said her husband had deserted her some time ago, and she had saved enough money to go to her parents somewhere in Delaware.

She had made all her arrangements to start last night, having purchased a ticket to Washington, when, according to her story, a man who had been boarding with her induced her to drink, and took her ticket and $8 in money. A man, unknown to any of the officers at the station house, called and claimed the child, but was not allowed to carry it away. The woman and child remained at the station house last night, and the police are on the lookout for the man alleged to have taken the ticket and money, the woman having given a description of him.

The Southview Orphan Asylum.

Rev. J. E. Bushnell, as Secretary of the Southview Orphan Home Board, has issued a circular in behalf of the eight orphans now at the Home. A committee consisting of Messrs. P. L. Terry, C. Markley, T. W. Miller, A. M. Bowman and T. J. Shiekel, has been appointed to consider and report upon the plans for permanent location, support and endowment.

Ball-Graham.

Mr. J. Thomas Hall, of E. H. Stewart & Co's furniture store, West avenue, will be married to Miss Louisa Graham next Tuesday, October 28, at 9:30 a. m., at the residence of the bride near Floyd Court House.

Steve Wigmore Hurt.

Mr. Steve Wigmore, the well-known baseball player, and an employee of the boiler-making department of the Roanoke Machine Works, met with a painful accident at the machine works yesterday evening. He was at work riveting in the new cupola being erected in the foundry department, when a spark from the old cupola burned the rope which suspended his platform, precipitating him about thirty-five feet to the ground. He received a very bad wound on the back of the neck, and was slightly injured internally. Dr. Vogel rendered the necessary medical attention.

Folded Their Tents.

A prisoner at the station house who was awaiting a trial before the mayor on the charge of nuisance, slid out at the door, and went his way rejoicing, early yesterday morning while Watchman Johnson was making a list of the prisoners for breakfast. There is no stove in the part of the building where the cells are, and the prisoners were taken to the front room, or police headquarters for the night, and were guarded by two officers.

He Got on the Track.

Henry Holden, a white man who had just arrived in Roanoke, while intoxicated staggered upon the Shenandoah track, near the coal chute Monday evening, and was struck by the cars. One side of his head was terribly cut and bruised. He was cared for at the station house until yesterday afternoon, when he was sent to the almshouse.

The Midway Works About Ready to Start. The last piece of machinery, a large bolt machine, was placed in position at the Midway Iron Works yesterday, and the plant will begin operations within the next week or ten days.
